9. REQUEST PROCEDURE FOR ACCESS TO RECORDS IN TERMS OF PAIA

- 9.1 The requestor must complete the prescribed form, included in ANNEXURE B of this Manual. The request form must be addressed to the Information Officer using the contact details in this Manual. All requests will be evaluated and considered by the Information Officer.
- 9.2 The request form must be completed in full. Any request for access to a record that does not comply with the formalities as prescribed by PAIA will be returned to the requestor.
- 9.3 Skyblue will not be held liable for delays owing to the receipt of incomplete forms.
- 9.4 Proof of identity is required to authenticate the identity of the requestor. If the requestor acts as an agent, proof of the identity of the agent and of the requestor is required, as well as the authority or mandate given to the agent of the requestor.
- 9.5 Skyblue requests a fee to enable it to recover the cost of processing a request for records and providing access to records. The fees are outlined in ANNEXURE C of this Manual.
- 9.6 A bank deposit is the only accepted payment method for record requests. Banking details will be provided by the Information Officer upon receipt of a request for access to a record with an estimate of the fees payable. A request for access to records will only be considered once a fully completed form and the prescribed request fee have been received by the Information Officer.
- 9.7 Requests for access to records will be processed within 30 (thirty) days, unless a request contains considerations that are of such a nature that an extension of the time limit is needed. Should an extension be required, you will be notified, together with reasons explaining why the extension is necessary. If the Information Officer decides to grant you access to the record, such access must be granted within 30 (thirty) days of being informed of the decision.
- 9.8 The Information Officer shall decide whether to grant the requested access to records and inform the requestor accordingly. Section 17 of PAIA stipulates that the disclosure of a record is compulsory if the disclosure reveals evidence of a substantial contravention of, or failure to comply with, the law, or there is an imminent and serious public-safety or environmental risk and the public interest in the disclosure of the record in question clearly outweighs the harm contemplated by its disclosure. The requestor shall be notified of the decision in the most expedient manner possible. If the Information Officer has searched for a record and it is believed that the record either does not exist or cannot be found, the requestor will be notified accordingly. The notification will include a summary of all the steps taken to find the record in question or to determine whether the record exists.
- 9.9 If the request for access to a record affects a third party, then such third party must first be informed of the request by the Information Officer as soon as possible but within 21 (twenty-one) days of receipt of the request. The third party would then have a further 21 (twenty-one) days to make representations and/or submissions regarding the granting of access to the record. If the request for access to information is refused by the Information Officer, the requestor shall be provided with written reasons for such refusal.

10. GROUNDS FOR THE REFUSAL OF ACCESS IN TERMS OF PAIA

There are various grounds upon which a request for access to a record may be refused in terms of PAIA. These grounds include:

- 10.1 The protection of personal information of a third person (who is a natural person) from unreasonable disclosure if the record contains:
 - 10.1.1 trade secrets of that third party;
 - 10.1.2 financial, commercial, scientific, or technical information, of which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of that third party; and/or
 - 10.1.3 information disclosed in confidence by a third party to Skyblue.
- 10.2 The disclosure of the record could put that third party at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition.
- 10.3 The protection of confidential information if the disclosure would constitute a breach of a duty or confidence to a third party in terms of an agreement.
- 10.4 The protection of confidential information of third parties if it is protected in terms of any agreement or legislation.
- 10.5 The protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property.
- 10.6 The protection of records which would be regarded as privileged in legal proceedings.
- 10.7 The protection of commercial activities of Skyblue, which may include:
 - 10.7.1 trade secrets;
 - 10.7.2 financial, commercial, scientific, or technical information, of which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of Skyblue;
 - 10.7.3 information which, if disclosed, could put Skyblue at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition; and
 - 10.7.4 a computer program which is owned by Skyblue and which is protected by copyright.
- 10.8 The protection of research information of Skyblue or a third party which disclosure would disclose the identity of the institution, the researcher or the subject matter of the research and would place the research at a serious disadvantage.
- 10.9 Requests for information that are clearly frivolous or vexatious, or which involve an unreasonable diversion of resources shall be refused.

11. REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO A REQUESTOR ON THE REFUSAL OF ACCESS

- 11.1 There is no internal appeal procedure after a request to access information has been refused. The decision made by the Information Officer is final. If a requestor is not satisfied with the outcome of the request, they are entitled to apply to the Information Regulator or a court of competent jurisdiction, within 180 (one hundred and eighty) days of the decision, to take the matter further.
- 11.2 Where a third party is affected by the request for access, and the Information Officer has decided to grant access to a record, the third party has 180 (one hundred and eighty) days in which to appeal the decision in a court.

12. PROCESSING PERSONAL INFORMATION IN TERMS OF POPIA

- 12.1 Skyblue will collect, use, and share your personal information in accordance with its Privacy Policy. This policy is available on our website or upon request from the Information Officer.
- 12.2 In terms of POPIA you may, upon proof of identity, request Skyblue to confirm, free of charge, the personal information that it holds about you. To exercise this right, please contact our Information Officer.
- 12.3 You may request a record, or a description of the personal information held by Skyblue about you, including information about the identity of all third parties, or categories of third parties, who have, or have had, access to your personal information. To do so, complete the request form in ANNEXURE E to this Manual and submit the request to the Information Officer. You may be required to pay a fee for this service, as indicated in ANNEXURE C. The Information Officer will provide you with the amount payable before providing the service, including the banking details that the fees must be paid into.
- 12.4 You may object at any time, free of charge, to the processing of personal information by Skyblue, on reasonable grounds, unless legislation provides for such processing. If you want to object to the processing of your personal information, please complete the prescribed form attached hereto as ANNEXURE F and submit it to the Information Officer.
- 12.5 You may request Skyblue to correct the personal information held about you if it is inaccurate, irrelevant, excessive, outdated, incomplete, misleading or has been obtained unlawfully. To request the correction of your personal information you would need to complete ANNEXURE G to the Manual. This form must be submitted to the Information Officer.
- 12.6 If you wish Skyblue to destroy or delete a record of personal information about you that we are no longer authorised to retain in terms of POPIA, please complete ANNEXURE G to this Manual and submit it to the Information Officer.
